“I Am the Bread of Life”
By: David Cox —Market Street Messenger

“And Jesus said to Him, ‘I am the bread of life, He who comes to Me shall never hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst’”
John 6:35

Jesus had just fed the five thousand with the five loaves and two fishes. Jesus sent His disciples to Capernaum while He sent the multitudes away. On the following day, when Jesus and the disciples arrived in Capernaum, the multitudes found Jesus. He took advantage of this occasion to preach to them about the bread of life. During the sermon, Jesus identifies Himself as “the bread of life.” Let’s consider this statement of Jesus and three things we can learn from it.

Jesus, Like Bread, is Food.

Food is absolutely necessary for the existence of life. For the Jews, bread would remind them of the manna sent from God to sustain them in the wilderness. Bread is a food that builds, nourishes, and sustains the body. Jesus is the same in that He builds, nourishes, and sustains the spiritual side of man.

Jesus, Like Bread, Is Universal Food.

Bread is an essential food, a staple of many diets, and a very accessible food for all people regardless of social status or wealth. All people, regardless of race, wealth, or age, need food to live. When Jesus fed the five thousand, He fed everyone irrespective of who they were and their situation in life.

I am the Bread of Life

The gospel of Christ is for everyone regardless of age, gender, nationality, or wealth (Romans 1:16). Jesus shed His blood on the cross to purchase redemption for all men. Jesus desires all men to hear the gospel and partake of the bread of life (Matthew 28:19-20; Mark 16:15-16).

Jesus, Like Bread, is Indispensable Food.

Bread is not a luxury; it is a necessity. Bread is something that we must have in any meal. Regardless of what we eat, we do not feel the meal is complete without bread. It is indispensable. Jesus is the same way. Jesus is not a luxury, something good to have. Jesus is an absolute necessity for our spiritual life. Jesus should always be a part of our lives. He should be the first consideration in everything we do (Matthew 6:33). Our salvation is based on our relationship with Christ, which is essential for our spiritual life. Jesus is saying, "I am the bread of life," which means He is essential. There is no life spiritually without Christ. Indeed, He is the indispensable bread of life.

Remember the lessons from Jesus as "the bread of life." May we look to Jesus and feed on the word of God that has been given to us. In doing so, we will be built up, strengthened, and sustained in our spiritual life. We will never lack in the things we need to know how to live and serve God in our lives.

"After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him. So Jesus said to the twelve, 'Do you want to go away as well?' Simon Peter answered him, 'Lord, to whom shall we go?
